Hey, it's me calling you back
I know it seems sad
That I'm all alone here

I noticed that
You only call me when you're bored
But I'm just here to tell you
That that won't happen anymore

Cause we're just strangers now
And having you around
Feels like drowning in your ego
Cause the only person
That you cared about was yourself

And no else, just yourself
And how can you love someone
Whose only love is themselves
And no else, just themselves
And how can you love someone who's love is
For nobody else
